"Rube Contest."

On Thursday evening, there will be a "Rube" contest at the Auditorium. For the best make-up a skate book will be given. So hunt up or borrow from your neighbor the toga you want to wear.

Is it possible that Bryan's gift of oratory is in reality a drawback to his Presidential aspirations? To look backward at the silver-tongued orators, who have been prominent in politics might indicate it. Webster was beloved for his eloquence, as well as for his ability in other lines. Clay, Sumner, Douglas and Blaine were all gifted orators, but the best they could do in Presidential races was to be "close;" for they were never chosen.

The Fortnightly Club.

The Fortnightly Club had a most interesting meeting with Mrs. Ella Rounsavall, Monday afternoon. Rev. F. B. Wentworth made a very instructive talk on the "Life of Shakespeare" and also gave an interesting reading from Hamlet.

Mrs. Rezin Scobee read a most unusual and attractive paper on "Early English Actors." Mrs. Ernest Bean had a clever and intensely interesting paper, "Waifs Who Have Become Famous."

They held the first debate of the year. It was very spirited, and was enjoyed immensely by all present, because of the repartee and charming manner in which it was given. The subject was: "Resolved, That the cultivation of the back yard is more conducive to the good of fellow men than the cultivation of the mind."

Miss Annie Croxton represented the affirmative and Miss Carrie Lee Hathaway, the negative side. The society editor did not learn the decision.

The meeting was an unusually interesting one from beginning to end. It adjourned to meet with Mrs. Carrie Mills, Monday, November 23.

Straight Path Always Best.

Nations as well as men have gone down to the dust in disgrace when they fell away from the rectitude of morality and the code of truth. Subterfuge and dishonesty have paved the way to extinction and oblivion, while integrity and manhood have upraised the standard of commonwealths and placed it on the sun crowned heights of victory.

ELKIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bybee and Mrs. Pora Allen were guests of Mrs. Jessie Hodgkin and family, Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Bush returned home Sunday, after a two weeks' visit. Mr. Ben Eubank was the guest of his father, from Friday until Monday.

PAYING ELECTION OFFICERS.

County Clerk, J. A. Boone began Tuesday morning issuing vouchers to the election officers for their services who officiated at the recent election.

TWO BROTHERS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Hon. J. W. Berkshire, of Boone County is Here the Guest of Hon. R. D. Hunter.

Hon. J. W. Berkshire, representative in the Legislature from Boone county, is here, the guest of Hon. R. D. Hunter. Mr. Berkshire and Mr. Hunter served on important committees together in the last Legislature, among them being those of Religion and Morals and Redistricting.

Mr. Berkshire is a true blue Democrat, and prides himself that he never scratched a ticket. He has a brother, Hon. P. W. Berkshire, who is the representative from Davis county. Neither knew that the other was a candidate until after the election. Mr. Berkshire declined to be interviewed politically.

He has seventy hogsheads of 1907 tobacco in the pool here, the samples of which have just arrived. Boone county tobacco, as a rule, brings the highest prices.

INQUIRE OFTEN,

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES TO ORGANIZE IN WINCHESTER

Committee Appointed by Several Churches Permanently Organizes and Elects R. O. Fitch, Chairman, and Rev. C. E. Crafton, Secretary

The organization of an associated charity association in Winchester now seems to be certain. There was a meeting of the Committee that was appointed some time ago composed of members of the different churches, held at the First Presbyterian Church, Monday afternoon for the purpose of deciding definitely on the matter. Mr. J. W. Gay was appointed temporary chairman and Mr. C. H. Bowen temporary secretary of the meeting.

Ever since the matter first came up, there has been a division among the members of the committee, some in favor of organizing an association and some in favor of letting each church take care of its own needy and poor.

But at the meeting Monday afternoon, the motion was made to organize and it was unanimously carried and the following permanent officers were elected:

R. O. Fitch, Chairman.

Rev. C. E. Crafton, secretary.

On motion it was ordered that the chairman appoint a finance committee and the following members were named: J. R. Martin, George Tomlinson and J. W. Chambers.

There will be a meeting of the officers and the financial committee and the pastors of the various churches, held Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock for the purpose of formulating plans to solicit funds and members.
